Takes Precedence in War Conference With Allies Over Sending of Troops to France.

A BRITISH EXPERT TALKS

Eustus Percy Says Standardizing of Ships is Biggest Immediate Need to Stop Menace.

SHOWS MENACE TO ALLIES

Points Out Germany is Sinking Allies Vessels Faster Than They Can Be Constructed.

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(U. F. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, May 1.—The German submarine menace overshadowed even the question of sending American soldiers to France at the war conference of the allies here today.

The British expert, Eustus Percy, informed the American government that the shipping problem took precedence over other war problems. Standardizing of ships in England, America, Canada and Japan is the biggest immediate need to stop the menace, he told America.

"Germany is sinking ships faster than the allies are building," said Lord Percy. "You may get something of the significance of the situation when I tell you that forty British merchant ships were sunk by German submarines the third week in April."

The English have told America that the balancing factor in the situation, if we are to go on feeding the allies, is the shipping problem.

The United States has submitted an estimate of the tonnage it can build and Canada has informed the allies that it is prepared to build wooden ships. Japan is also building ships.

OFFICIAL WORD OF SINKING

Government Gets Cable Saying Only 18 on Vacuum Were Saved

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 1.—The government received the first official news of the sinking of the American steamer Vacuum today in a cablegram to the state department. The message was received from the American consul general at London. It said the vessel had been sunk by a submarine and only eighteen saved.

CENSORSHIP PUT ON WIRES TODAY

President Wilson Issues Proclamation Regarding Cable, Telegraph and Telephone Lines

ALONG THE MEXICAN BORDER

Object to Prevent Military Information Reaching Enemy and Circulate False Reports

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 1.—Censorship of all cable and of all the telegraph and telephone lines along the Mexican border was instituted today by the United States government.

President Wilson issued a proclamation ordering the censorship and left it to the war and navy departments to work out the regulations. These regulations were completed and the censorship ordered in immediate effect.

The censorship hits newspapers and press associations chiefly, but it also involves messages of American business concerns and individuals.

The object of the censorship is to prevent military information reaching the enemy; to prevent sending of information prejudicial against the United States or of interest to Germany and to prevent the circulation of false reports. The regulations are sufficiently broad to give the government censor the power to strike out parts and withhold messages.

CENSORSHIP HIDES MAY DAY ACTIVITIES

Suddenly Tightens And Allows no News of Germany's Threatened Strikes to Leak

ENGLAND REMAINS QUIET

(By United Press.)

London, May 1.—German censorship today hid from the world any May day developments in the labor and socialist movements or the threatened strike. Within the last few days the German censorship has suddenly tightened.

All sorts of sensational rumors gained circulation here today. It appeared certain that the twenty-four-hour strike has been successful in tying up at least a part of the great German steel plants and possibly some munitions works.

England experienced no May day demonstrations. On the other hand several thousand workers, who had been out returned to their places this morning.

Chester Peck will attend the high school commencement in Moscow this evening.

REFERENDUM AMENDMENT LOST TODAY

Senate Defeats LaFollette's Suggestion Conscription be Submitted to Vote of People

GOES TO CONFERENCE NOW

Differences Between Senate and House as to Age Limits and Other Things to be Settled

ANOTHER AMENDMENT LOST

Effort to Change Bill by Substituting The Word "Emergency" For "War" Fails

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 1.—The senate this afternoon for the second time passed the administration's selective conscription bill. It will go at once to conference for straightening out of the house and senate differences.

Intimation that war with other nations than Germany may threaten the United States was indicated in the senate when Senator Chamberlain introduced the conscription bill for final passage.

"Upon advice of the judge advocate general I desire to amend the bill," said Senator Chamberlain, "so as to substitute the word 'emergency' for 'war' wherever it appears in the bill."

"The reason given was that the bill is now constructed to apply only to the war with Germany and if we were drawn into a war with other nations it would not apply to those."

The amendment to eliminate the word "war" failed. The senate adopted an amendment prohibiting the maintenance of disreputable resorts within ten miles of training camps.

Senator LaFollette then offered his amendment to put to a referendum the question whether the American people wish to be conscripted and the question of sending troops to Europe. It was defeated.

The house this afternoon took up the army and navy appropriation bill totalling $2,699,000,000 for national defense purposes.

Suggestion that all schools opening next fall be postponed several weeks to permit boys and girls working on farms and in food production establishments, was made to the agriculture committee by Secretary Houston.

Boards to Register Men of Military Age Are Formed For Each Precinct Today

TRUSTEES ASKED TO SERVE

Appointees May Get All The Help They Need Because It is All a Matter of Patriotism

The county conscription board composed of Sheriff Cavitt, Clerk George B. Moore, Jr., and John Carr, met today and made preliminary arrangements for registering all of the men in Rush county of military age affected by the conscription bill. No date has been set as yet for the taking of the registration, but Rush county will be ready when the time does come.

In every township the township trustee was asked to co-operate with the county board. One man will have charge of the registration in each voting precinct of the county and the usual polling places will be used. The township trustees will have charge of the registering in the precincts in which they reside.

Any of the men appointed today by the county board to have charge of the registration by precincts may get as much help as necessary. The entire thing is a matter of patriotism, there being no money consideration involved. The county board and the assistants will draw no pay and for this reason co-operation is urged. The appointments by precincts follow:

Interest in First Line of Defense Will Cause Large Number to Attend Navy Meeting

C. A. BOOKWALTER TO SPEAK

Representative of U. S. Navy Will Explain Advantages of Joining The Service

On account of the prominence of the speakers and the nature of the meeting, it is anticipated that the navy recruiting party from Indianapolis, which will arrive here at 6:30 o'clock tonight and hold a public meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the court house assembly room, will be greeted by a large crowd that will tax the seating capacity of the assembly room.

Robert E. Mansfield will preside and the principal address will be made by Charles A. Bookwalter, former mayor of Indianapolis. A representative of the United States navy will also make an address explaining the navy recruiting campaign and many of the advantages of the navy, which is the first line of defense. Music will be provided by the orchestra of the Main Street Christian Sunday school.

Accompanying the navy party will be M. B. Goldfarb, first gunners mate attached to the Indianapolis recruiting station which is in charge of Lieutenant E. F. Clement. Goldfarb will remain here Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday to conduct a brief recruiting campaign for the navy in Rush county. He will make headquarters at the postoffice.

Some of the advantages offered by the Navy are: a free outfit of clothing, sufficient ordinarily to last two years; transportation and subsistence from point of enlistment to place of assignment; travel allowances (cash) at the rate of 4 cts. per mile from place of discharge to place of enlistment when discharged by cause of expiration of enlistment—for instance: a man who enlists at New York and is discharged at San Francisco, distance about 3,100 miles, will receive $124.00; if discharged through physical disability, transportation and subsistence will be given to man's home; if injured in line of duty to such an extent that a man is discharged, a liberal pension is given; free medical treatment and, if incapacitated for any duration from whatsoever cause, man's full pay continues so long as he is serving within his enlistment; a furlough of 30 days each year on full pay provided ship is in home waters; certain advancement in rating with corresponding increase in pay to the deserving; privilege of allotting a portion of monthly pay to bank for own savings, or to dependent relatives; six months pay to dependent relative in case of death in line of duty; material increase in pay upon re-enlistment; 4 months gratuity pay to honorably discharged men who re-enlist within four months of discharge date; many details carrying additional pay of from $2.00 to $25.00 per month; retirement after 30 years service on 3-4 full pay plus a liberal allowance for lodging and subsistence, which in most cases will amount to $100.00 per month; an opportunity to enter the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, Md. (Under existing law 25 enlisted men of the Navy may be appointed to the Naval Academy.) The examination for appointment to the Naval Academy is competitive and is open to all young men under 20 years of age. When completing the course at the Naval Academy, the midshipman to which status the recruit passes when entering, emerges a commissioned officer with the rank of Ensign; splendid opportunity to become a Chief Petty Officer upon re-enlistment which carries pay of upward of $100.00 per month.

Dogs Cause Heaviest Loss in Years, Causing Fund to be Depleted, With Claims Outstanding

DEFICIT OF $322 REPORTED

Trustee James Young Says Dog Owners Must Pay Taxes or be Prosecuted Under the Law

The township dog fund is absolutely "broke." Worse than this there is a deficit of $322 in outstanding claims for sheep killed in Rushville township, which must be paid out of this fund. All of which means that the township assessor will likely make a second trip around the circuit looking for dogs that escaped taxation, and also that Trustee J. V. Young, will devote considerable time towards prosecution, if necessary to get the tax on all dogs.

The toll claimed by sheep killing dogs in the last few weeks has been the heaviest in years. In one neighborhood—the Webb community—southwest of the city, claims for $322 worth of sheep killed by dogs have been filed with Trustee Young. These claims, under the law, are paid out of the dog fund and the dog fund is maintained by the taxes on dogs.

The fund today was worse than nothing. There was absolutely no money with which to pay these outstanding claims. The township assessor has been asked to submit his report on dog tax collections. In former years the assessor usually turned over about $260. If this amount is received this spring there will still be a shortage in the fund. For this reason a second trip will be made by the assessors in order to get all of the taxes due the township on dogs. Trustee Young has a list of dog owners and in case they are not given in for taxation, prosecution will follow. The offense is punishable with a fine and in addition the owner of the dog is then required to pay the tax. Each day constitutes a separate offense.

Trustee Young stated today that the thing was serious. The law requires that on March 1 the trustees must reduce their dog funds to $100 and all over this goes to the county. Trustee Young had a shortage in this fund on March 1 and kept only $67 on hands. This has long since been paid out.

The sheep herds of U. S. Maffett, Alva Webb, Noah Webb and Jonathan Fore, all in the Webb neighborhood, have been exceedingly hard hit by the dogs. Outstanding claims filed with the trustee for sheep killed are as follows: U. S. Maffett, $45; Alva Webb, $60; Noah Webb, $150 and Jonathan Fore, $67. More sheep of Noah Webb were killed last Saturday night and he will have an additional claim to file.

The parties have been keeping their sheep close to their homes and despite this the dogs have become so bold as to approach the houses. Saturday night one dog was killed. It was reported to the trustee that one man was refusing to give up a dog known to be a sheep killing animal. This offense is punishable with a heavy fine.

Trustee Young said today that there were at least 500 dogs in Rushville. "With the high cost of living soaring," said Mr. Young, "I do not see how the people expect to keep the dogs, and especially since they do not pay taxes. I guess we will have to start a dog killing campaign before the thing is ended."

Dr. Elmer Young of Kokomo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Young of this city, who underwent an operation for an infection of the ear at the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis, is getting along as well as could be expected, according to word received here today.

PLOT TO BLOW UP NEW YORK OFFICE

Details Divulged With Arrest of Wolfe Hirsh Formerly in German Submarine Service

STOCK MARKET PANIC, PLAN

Police Declare he Has Been Experimenting With High Explosives at Roosevelt Hospital.

New York, May 1.—Details of a plot to blow up an important Wall street office, presumably J. P. Morgan and company and contemplated to be followed by cutting of telephone wires and spreading of false reports of President Wilson's assassination and U-boat raids, were revealed by the police today following the arrest of Wolfe Hirsh, formerly in the German submarine service.

Hirsh, with George Neiring, another German, is held on a charge of having a bomb in his possession. The police declare he hoped to cause a stock panic and profit thereby.

Hirsh, according to the police, declared he was engaged in the German secret service. He is an expert chemist and has been under surveillance for some time. Officers charged they watched his experimenting with explosives in the Roosevelt hospital where he was employed.

Inspiration Miscellany

Cheerful Women

A cheerful woman is like a ray of sunshine wherever she goes. She not only does good to others by example, but she helps discontented and gloomy people to throw off some of their native melancholy and to emulate a little of her own cheerfulness.

The cheerfulness that persists in seeing the bright side of everything and discovers "the silver lining" where others perceive no break in the gray cloud must not be confounded with selfishness and carelessness. They are totally different attributes, quite antagonistic to one another.

A purely selfish and careless woman would be thinking so continually about herself that she would have no reserve force left in which to practice the hundred and one little thoughtful actions which come within the ken of the woman who has "cheerfulness" as her watchword and who endeavors to make her sisters more happy by imparting some of it to them.

Women who seem the embodiment of happiness are frequently misjudged. Superficial observers give them little credit for any depth of feeling, and imagine that they take the responsibilities and cares of life far too lightly when they do not go about with a gloomy countenance. It is only those who have been confined to a sickroom who know what a priceless treasure is that buoyancy of spirit and what hidden depths of feeling may be beneath the outwardly bright exterior.—Exchange.

A Father's Last Question.

A New York business man suddenly said to his daughter, "Helen, have I been a good father to you?" "Certainly you have. Why do you ask such a question?" she answered. There was no reply, and the girl, turning, saw that her father's head had fallen forward on his breast. She went to him and found that he was dead. It was only a case of heart failure, with nothing supernatural about it. Yet sometimes it seems as if Death sent a secret messenger ahead to warn the spirit of its coming, and the soul thus warned rises and awaits the Presence standing. No one could ask to die with a kinder thought in mind than that which this man had, nor can every father cherish so sweet a memory.—

In the twelve seasons that have elapsed since Bransfield departed Pittsburgh has tried out no less than nineteen men at the first corner. After leaving the Pirates "Kitty" played fine ball for Philadelphia, but eventually retired. It remains to be seen whether "Kitty" can handle the indicator as well as he could cover first base.

What an Oklahoma Boy Did With an Acre of Land

The production of 100 bushels of corn on an acre of land is by no means common in any state, and especially in Oklahoma, where climatic conditions are none too reliable, writes a correspondent of the Country Gentleman. This feat was accomplished during the past year, however, by Earl Ross, a farmer boy of Oklahoma county, Okla.

Earl's father, a renter, gave him an acre of land on what little creek bottom there was on the farm, and the boy went to work. The land had been in potatoes the year before and weeds had overgrown it to some extent.

In the early spring the land was plowed about eight inches deep, and then the disk harrow and the smoothing harrow were run over the plot three times before the crop was planted. The stand was pretty good and cultivation began immediately, even before the corn came up. In addition to being harrowed twice, the corn was cultivated five times. In fact, the county agent said Earl almost lived in that corn patch up to the time the crop was laid by.

But the work paid, for the yield was slightly more than 100 bushels to the acre. Along with that 100 bushel corn yield came other benefits. There is a father who sees more value in what he used to term "book farming," and there is a wide awake boy who sees more in the future of farming than he was ever able to see before.

Graham Crackers.

Mix a quart each of graham and white flour with one cupful of sugar, four heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two teaspoonfuls of salt. Add sweetened sour cream or sweet cream, omitting the soda—for a very stiff dough. Knead thoroughly, roll thin, cut in squares and bake slowly until crisp and light brown.

Veal Loaf.

Three pounds of veal, one-half pound of pork chopped fine (or put through meat chopper), ten crackers rolled fine, four eggs well beaten, six teaspoonfuls melted butter, one tablespoonful salt, one teaspoonful pepper, one-half cupful sweet milk. Make into loaf and bake three hours, basting occasionally.

Savory Fried Apples.

Fry a sliced onion until tender in bacon drippings. Add quartered and cored apples—pared or not, as you prefer. Fry until tender, then add sugar to taste and watch carefully to see that the apples brown without burning. This combination is as delicious as it is unusual.

SENATE PAYS DEEP TRIBUTE TO FRENCH

Historic Chamber Shakes With Cheers When Visitors From America's Ally Appear

VIVIANI PREDICTS VICTORY

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 1.—The United States senate today paid spectacular tribute to Vice Premier Viviani and Marshall Joffre. Time and again the historic chamber where demonstrations are forbidden, shook with cheers during a visit of the leading members of the French commission.

From the time they entered the chamber until they left the applause was deafening. Senator LaFollette, chief opponent of the war, was one of the first to begin and the last to stop.

Viviani predicted a "magnificent victory with the help of this glorious country in which you live."

Chicago, Ill., May 1.—Possibility of a flour famine added to the seriousness of the bread famine here today when it was learned that hardly any of the small retail grocers had enough to supply the demand.

Efforts by the mayor and other intermediaries to reach an agreement between the strikers and the bakers have failed and union leaders declare that the arrival of Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor will not change the situation.

SUIT IS FILED TO ESTABLISH A WILL

Laura Ivins Riley et al. Bring Action in Which it is Alleged Document Was Lost.

SAYS IT WAS MADE MAY 12, 1914

Laura Ivins Riley et al. have filed suit to establish a will of the late John Ivins, that is alleged to have been lost, which if found distributes his estate, valued at $25,000. The defendants are David Ivins and others.

It is alleged in the complaint that the late Mr. Ivins made a will on May 12, 1914, while of sound mind. The complaint sets out the amounts the various heirs were to receive under the will. A partition suit involving the same parties was filed a few days ago.

R. W. McDaniel and Douglas Morris represent the plaintiff in the will case. The court is asked to declare that the will exists and to remove O. A. J. Hall as the administrator of the estate and that the property be disposed under the terms of the alleged will.

Economy Should be Learned
This is no time for wastefulness. The subject may be threadbare, but it is apparent that the people of Rush county are not thoroughly aroused to the seriousness of the war in which the United States is engaged; they still think of it as something remote, but there is some chance that it will be brought closer home to them when it dawns upon the average citizen that Rush county boys even may go to the front in France within a few months.

But as to wastefulness. A. L. Gary sounded a very wise and sensible slogan when he said we should produce more, consume less and waste nothing. There is no doubt but that the citizen who remains at home (the citizen means man and woman alike) has just as heavy a responsibility as the man who shoulders arms and faces death.

Good food is wasted if it gets into the garbage pail; if it is allowed to spoil in the home; if ruined by careless cooking, careless paring and trimming; if too much is served at meals. All these things constitute items in the $700,000,000 annual waste of food in homes in this country cited recently by the United States secretary of agriculture. Much of this waste is easily preventable.

That vast amounts of nourishing material are thrown out from American kitchens and so made useless for human consumption, is well established by the returns from garbage and fertilizer plants showing the amount of fats and nitrogenous material recovered from city garbage.

Much of the food is thrown out, the specialists say, because so many people do not how to utilize leftovers or will not take the trouble to keep and prepare them. The specialists point out that left-over cereals can be reheated or combined with fruits, meats, or vegetables into appetizing side dishes; that even a spoonful of cereal is worth saving as a thickener of soups, gravies and sauces. Stale bread can be utilized in a variety of ways in combination with vegetables and meats and in preparing hot breads and puddings. Skim milk, too widely looked down upon as a food although it contains practically all the nourishing elements of whole milk with the exception of the cream or fat, can be used as a beverage, in cooking cereals, or as a basis for milk soups or sauces. Even sour milk, so largely thrown away, can be used in making hot breads or in the home manufacture of cottage cheese.

Important amounts of perishable foods are made dangerous or inedible in households because they are exposed unnecessarily to heat, germs, dust, dirt, or to flies and other insects.

Much milk spoils quickly because it is kept uncovered in warm kitchens. Close observance of the doctrine—"Keep perishable food, especially milk, cool, clean and covered continuously" may make a striking difference in the food bills of many families.

In other cases, one or two vegetables, beets or carrots, for instance, not needed immediately are thrown out or allowed to spoil instead of being used in soups or combination dishes. Fruits which could be stewed and kept are allowed to spoil. Vegetables and fruits in quantities often are stored in hot damp, and poorly ventilated bins and under conditions which hasten wilting, fermentation and decay. Fruits, surplus beans, tomatoes and other vegetables produced in home gardens are allowed to spoil on the vines or rot on the ground. A morning's work would can and preserve such surplusage for use when fruits and vegetables are scarce and high in price.

Many housewives who complain that children and adults will not eat breakfast cereals fail to realize that the cereals they serve are undercooked, scorched, or improperly seasoned and thus made unpalatable. Most of the cheaper foods require careful seasoning and preparation to be fully appetizing. In many households, the specialists believe, proper attention to the cooking of these cheap and desirable foods will increase greatly their consumption and thus reduce considerably the use of more expensive foods eaten instead of cereals.

Much useful food gets into the garbage pail because the housewife in preparing potatoes or other vegetables and fruit, such as apples, cuts off with the skin a considerable percentage of edible material. Careless paring of potatoes may consign as much as 20 per cent of the edible portion, including outer layers containing valuable mineral substances, to the garbage pail. Many persons are unaware that the green and tender tops of many vegetables which contain valuable mineral and other food substances, are excellent cooked as greens, or even as additions to salads.

Many families take pride in serving lavish and overbountiful meals. Such meals lead inevitably to waste of food on the table and to overeating, which often impairs health and efficiency. The sane standard, "Eat enough food and no more," rigidly followed, would reduce greatly food bills in many homes and, at the same time, tend to improve the physical condition of all members of the household.

Housewives, interested in economy, who wish to be certain that their families are getting proper food and not too much, should ask the U. S. Department of Agriculture to send Farmers' Bulletin 808, "How to Select Foods—What the Body Needs." This bulletin classifies foods into simple household groups and shows the housewife how to plan meals that will provide for the growth and repair of the body and supply the energy the various members of the household need for their special tasks.

E. I. Lewis, a staff correspondent of the Indianapolis News, writing from Lafayette, prophecies that those Indiana counties with the best records this year in the matter of food production will be found to be those with county agents, when the returns come in next fall. He will doubtless be right and Rush county, which should be first in all things in an agricultural way, will likely have to fall behind because it is not progressive enough to support a county agent.

The Kangaroo

The kangaroo is the only animal in the world that never educated its feet. It can't walk. And it can only half fly. So its sits upon its hind legs and gets where it's going in leaps.

There are many criticisms like this we might make of the kangaroo. It travels by jerks, like a local train. And if it lived in any icy country it could leap ten feet and slide a mile and have it on all of us.

But there is this to be said for the brute: It certainly goes in for convenience. It jumps its rivers and ditches and obviates bridges. And as for the mothers of the kangaroo race—well, show us the American woman who can put her baby in her pocket and go shopping.

DESPERATION OF GERMANS SHOWN

Captured Letters Disclose That "Short, Sharp, Decisive Struggle" is Intended

DOMESTIC CRISIS IS ON

Many Believe Open Defiance of United States is Due to Germany's Empty Stomach

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies in the Field, April 5.—(By Mail)—Germany's evident intention of trying for a "short, sharp, decisive struggle" as chronicled by neutral observers in Berlin, is daily making itself visible in black and white out here. Here is an extract from a captured letter, dealing with recruiting:

"There is a general clearance now: everyone who can move his legs is passed fit for service in the field. Everybody is now being called up. Even those who at first were declared quite unfit have all been taken."

The reason for this levee en masse seems to be indicated in the following letters, also taken from captured Germans:

"Altona—Want is now only beginning—the hunt for coal and the shortage of food. Every day, turnips, not even cabbage. A serious epidemic of virulent small-pox (Schwarze Pocken) has broken out in Hamburg, but has not reached Altona yet."

"Berlin—We still have no coal here and last week there was no bread to be had without a struggle. I stood in the snow and cold wind for an hour and a half and was about tenth in the queue. Suddenly the women rushed through the door like beasts of prey and splinters of glass flew about. I got in with the second batch and secured a half loaf—the very last piece of bread."

Many out here, with such documents constantly being brought to their attention, are of the opinion that the domestic crisis in Germany is responsible for her defiance of the United States and the world at large. They say it is hunger asserting itself, empty stomachs crying out to be filled regardless of consequences.

WARNS AGAINST OVER-PLANTING

Christie Declares Other Vegetables Should Not be Overlooked While Planting Potatoes

ALSO PERISHABLE ARTICLES

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—Over-planting of potatoes should be avoided in the opinion of G. I. Christie, state food director. In a statement today he urged the farmers and gardeners not to lose sight of the value of other vegetables which are considered practically as valuable food as potatoes. A large percentage of ground, which is not suitable for spuds will grow other garden truck.

He also advised against the planting of too many perishable articles which will last two or three days. Turnips, rutabagas, parsnips, onions and cabbage should also be planted in large quantities, Christie stated.

WHAT IS THE CONSTITUTION OF A STATE?

Copyright 1917 by John A. Lapp.

If all the people of a state could come together to conduct the common business, to make laws, execute laws and interpret laws, there would be no need of a constitution because the people would do the work of government themselves. Since they cannot come together but must depend upon representatives it is necessary that the people lay down the principal rules which are to guide their representatives and to declare that certain things shall or shall not be done by them.

The constitution is this declaration by the people. It controls legislatures, executives, courts, cities, towns, counties and townships. It is the supreme law of the people made by themselves. It sets up the main parts of the machinery of government and tells what legislatures, executives and courts may or may not do. Nothing can be done contrary to it by any official and when it defines a way to do anything that thing must be done in that way because any act in violation of the constitution is void.

The constitution of a club or society is the simplest form of constitution. The members of the society either by themselves or by specially chosen committees draw up a constitution which makes the general form of organization and government of the club. This is the supreme law of the club and cannot be changed except by the members of the club. Clubs also have a set of by-laws which are changed by the club or by its officers from time to time.

The constitution of the club corresponds to the constitution of the state; the by-laws correspond to the acts of the legislature. The constitution is made by the members of the club and in the case of the state by the members of the state—the people. The by-laws are made and changed by the officers of the club and in the case of the state by the legislature. The constitution is, therefore, the higher law. It may be made only by the people themselves acting through a specially appointed representative. It cannot be changed except by the special approval of the people. Hence it ought to be only that part of the law which is permanent and not changeable. That which is subject to frequent changes belongs to the by-laws—made by the legislature. A constitution should, therefore, be a short statement of principles which are reasonably permanent and not a mass of details which need frequent changes.

The constitutions of the states set up a form of government for the state consisting of a legislative, executive and judicial department, declare who has the right to vote and then set forth some of the things which cannot be done by officials. The people, jealous of their rights, fearing that officials might sometimes go wrong, declare that certain things may not be done. The people, for instance, do not tolerate interference with religious freedom; they will not permit a man's house to be searched without a warrant; or permit a man's life, liberty or property to be taken except by fair trial and judgment.

To guide their representatives the people declare in the constitution that certain things may be done and put the duty upon legislatures to pass certain laws.

In effect the constitution is a grant of power from the people to the government. All political power in this country rests in the people and they delegate in the constitution that part of their power which they are willing to trust to their officials.

The constitution as we know it, originated in this country in the time of the revolution. In England there was a constitution but it consisted in grants of right to the people from the government. The colonies were governed by charters granted by the crown. These charters were constitutions. When the colonies threw off the crown, they threw off the charters and stood free and independent of all authority. They then drew up their own form of government and fixed it in a written constitution. Thus the colonies reversed the old order of constitution and instead of making them a grant of rights from the government to the people, they became a grant of limited powers from the people to the government.

Since that day every state in the Union has had its constitution. In all cases these constitutions were made by the people's representatives chosen for the purpose and practically all have been adopted by the direct vote of the people.

The example of written constitutions in America spread all over the world and practically every civilized country now has a written constitution. In monarchical countries these constitutions are grants of rights to the people from the rulers. In democratic countries the constitution is the people's law which controls every act of the rulers, and the very existence of the rulers themselves.

Nothing further need be said to indicate the great importance of constitution making than thus to point out the place of the constitution in our political system. Since it is the people's supreme law, it needs to be framed with great wisdom, far-sighted vision, and the widest information gleaned from the experience of popular government throughout the world.

ORDERED TO RECRUIT
UP TO WAR STRENGTH

Captain Kiplinger Instructed by Adjutant General to Raise Guard Company to 150

WILL BE EQUIPPED AT ONCE

The next drill of the local guard company will be held Friday night. Most of this week will be taken up with measuring the men for clothing so that a requisition can be sent in as soon as possible to the government. Capt. Kiplinger this morning received an order from the adjutant general to proceed immediately with recruiting the company to war strength. He is asked to report the progress of the work.

The local company believes it can easily reach the 150 required for war strength. A total of eleven Connersville men have enlisted in the Rushville company and fourteen more are waiting there to be examined. A company under formation at Greensburg has failed and the Rushville company has been assured that some of these men will affiliate with this organization.

The Ladies Musicales was open to the public last evening, and there were over two hundred in attendance. The musical program which was given first, included the following: cornet solo, Harry Lucas; violin solo, C. Ernest Parke; piano duo, Mrs. Mauzy and Miss Kitchen; guitar solo, Dwight VanOsdol, and vocal solo, Miss Norma Smith. This was followed by an interesting lecture, "In a Canoe Down Spoon River," by Earl Marlatt, the subject being taken from Edgar Lee Masters book, entitled "Spoon River." The story was laid in a cemetery on, "Spoon River." He told of the views these people in the cemetery, who had died and gone to Heaven, would take of life, and what they would think of the people left on earth. In the talk, the speaker took the audience through this cemetery and read the epitaphs on the tombstones and then compared it with East Hill cemetery on Flat Rock river, and what we would think after we had been buried there and our souls gone to Heaven. Mr. Marlatt gave parodies on several poems, among which was "Ben Bolt." He brought out the many differences between the modern poetry and that written by the older poets; how the modern poetry didn't rhyme but was much better than the old.

The next meeting of the Musicales will be in two weeks, when Mothers Day will be observed, and the daughters of the members of the Musicales will preside.

The C. W. B. M. of the Little Flatrock Christian church will meet Thursday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at the church and the members of the May division will act as hostesses as follows: Mrs. Walter Looney, Mrs. Wesley Mauzy, Mrs. Charles Mauzy, Mrs. Ed Newby, Mrs. John Heeb, Mrs. Roscoe Tittsworth and Mrs. Alfred Looney. Mrs. Curtis Geise will be the leader.

The Mission Band will meet at the same hour in the Sunday school room of the church and Miss Rema Mae Norris will act as leader. All members are requested to be present as officers will be elected.

In honor of her house guests, who left for Oxford yesterday, Miss Fanny Stiers gave an elegant three course dinner yesterday at her home south of the city. All of the appointments were in pink and white and a large bowl of pink carnations was used to adorn the center of the table. The guests included the Misses Ivetta Wright, Ruth Richards, Jessie McCoy, Eileen Mills, Margaret Mason and Bertha Elston all of Oxford and the Misses Clarence Amos, Jessie and Mary Anderson, Hannah Morris and Edith Buell.

The Ladies of the May division of the C. W. B. M. will entertain the members of the society in the parlors of the church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The program is as follows: Bible Study, Mrs. John Boren; The Bible in Mexico, Mrs. C. H. Parsons; New School in Texas—Mexican Border, Mrs. I. Omer Cole; Protestant Epoch of Christian Conquest, Mrs. J. D. Case; music by Miss Marie Clawson.

Mrs. Walter Smith was delightfully surprised last evening, when about thirty of her friends and neighbors gathered at her home in North Sexton street for a social time, the occasion being her birthday. The evening was spent with dancing and playing cards, after which splendid refreshments were served.

Mrs. Hillary Haydon entertained the eight members of her 500 club yesterday afternoon at her home in North Main street. After the usual rounds of cards the hostess served a delectable luncheon.

The Band of Workers will meet with Mrs. Lon Link tomorrow afternoon, at her home in North Perkins street, and all the members are urged to be present.

The Friday Afternoon Embroidery club will meet with Mrs. Albert Fleckhart, Friday, at her home in West Fifth street.

Congressman Comstock Responds to Letter From Ministerial Association Regarding Prohibition

CONGREGATIONS VOTED FOR IT

Dr. D. Ira Lambert, secretary of the Rushville Ministerial association has received a reply from Congressman Daniel W. Comstock of this district in response to a letter from Dr. Lambert informing him that the Protestant congregations of Rushville, at services a week ago Sunday, had voted unanimously in favor of national prohibition as a war measure.

Congressman Comstock acknowledges receipt of the letter in which he was asked to assist in the movement for a dry nation, saying that he noted "the action of the Protestant congregations of Rushville on the question of prohibition as a war measure," and added: "The same will be given fair consideration."

A similar letter was sent to Senator Watson but no response has been received yet.

Smartly Said

If at first you don't succeed try some other way.

Be firm with your enemies and fairly so with your friends.
Admit your errors at least to yourself.

Don't give brutal proof of your frankness.

Raising Turkeys

A turkey when hatched should be left in the nest until strong enough to stand alone. It does not require any feed during the first thirty-six hours of its life. The hen and poult should be placed in a roomy coop on the grass, preferably short.
Ground bone or sand and plenty of clean, fresh drinking water should be before them at all times. For the first feed use eggs boiled hard, chopped fine, with crushed shell also. Add a generous pinch of pepper, also a bit of finely chopped onion tops or alfalfa leaves, which are excellent.
Also feed milk curd pressed dry and sprinkled with pepper. In addition to this, feed prepared chick feed, which makes a fine balanced ration. If any signs of diarrhea appear, give cold tea and rice water to drink instead of water. Watch closely for lice, which are usually found on the head, under the wings and around the vent. Remember that lice are sure death to young turkeys.

Mother's Doll Story

Jan and Hanska

Jan rubbed his eyes and looked out of the nursery window. He wore black velvet trousers and a blue silk shirt. His hair was yellow silk thread, and once he had lived in Poland.

"Hanska!" he whispered. "Hanska!" Of course he was calling his small sister, who was not yet awake. Hanska was always dressed in a red velvet skirt and a white waist with a little shawl over her shoulders. It seems very odd for dolls not to have any nighties, but these were European dolls, and in wartimes, you know, almost everybody has to get along without much.

Hanska rubbed her eyes, too, and woke up. When she saw the strange room, with lots of calico dogs and worsted cats all sitting in a row, she just jumped right at Jan, and together they cried a bit because they were not in Poland.

"What do you think she will be like?" whispered Jan.

"Who knows?" wailed Hanska. Just then the nursery door opened and in trudged a lovely little girl with blue eyes, brown curls and very pink cheeks.

"Oh, mamma," she cried, "how beautiful my Jan and Hanska are! I want to take them to breakfast with me, and then I want to take them out to dig in the snow!"

So you see that the little girl who adopted the small Poles planned to give them a good time.

We Copy From Nature.

In the ant hills of South Africa have been found suspension bridges passing from one gallery to another and spanning a gulf more than six inches wide.

I'd close my petals

But, since I'm just a little boy,
I guess I'll have

Every Man Should Now Put His Shoulder to the Wheel

¶ The representatives of the people in Congress assembled have spoken the will of the Nation and under the direction of President Wilson, it has been declared that a state of war exists between Germany and the United States.

¶ Whatever our opinions in the past, there must be but one now—and that is, to see that each and everyone's shoulder is put to the wheel and every effort given to the support of the government.

¶ And let us impress upon each and everyone that the support of the government does not necessarily mean—nor should it mean—patriotic outbursts or braggadocio.

¶ The business of war is one of the most intense and biggest propositions imaginable. A successful war can only be conducted by the elimination of hysteria and getting down to hard solid facts.

¶ It is absolutely necessary that everyone see that the business of the country is kept up to its fullest proportions, for it is only by reason of the business activity and the continuous interchanging of money that the government is able to borrow readily and easily and on the best terms.

¶ You should redouble your efforts to do a large measure of labor within the day's time. Every farmer should endeavor to increase his crops to the biggest on record. And above all else, all of us should go about our affairs in a normal, sensible manner. You are not expected to sit by and fold your hands but to do your bit—and that means that you must keep active in some way or other.

¶ Each section of the country must see that it provides its quota of business activity in every line.

¶ This store stands, as it has in the past, to the forefront; and realizing that only through increased business will the nation prosper and its financial condition be improved, we shall continue to present the advantages of buying at this store in the same aggressive manner as heretofore; always bearing in mind the fact we are a cog in the wheel of progress demanded by the government.

SULLIVAN FELT HERE

Strong Gale Monday Night Causes
Many to Make Plans to Take
Refuge in the Basement

CLEAR WEATHER PROMISED

The effect of a cyclone near Sullivan, Ind., in which one man was seriously hurt and thousands of dollars worth of property damaged, was felt here last night in the form of a gale that threatened to take on the aspects of a cyclone. The wind blew very hard and caused many householders to arrange for sudden flight to the basement or some other place of safety. The wind had abated only a small bit today and made the ushering in of May a very disagreeable affair.

The forecast was not very promising. Although fair weather is held out as a possibility tonight or tomorrow, the weatherman's prediction of cold weather for today held good. The strong west wind prophesied also was very much in evidence. The rains of the last week have been beneficial to the wheat, crop experts say, so that this may recompense somewhat for the inconvenience that people have suffered.

LOAN SHARK LAW
EFFECTIVE TODAY

Recent Act of Legislature Enforced
With Robert Prass at Head of Department

PROVIDES STIFF LICENSE

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 1.—The anti-loan shark law, passed by the last legislature, went into effect today and Robert Prass, Lafayette, named head of the new department for regulation of loan sharks, took steps to see that the measure is rigidly enforced.

Prass, who was formerly treasurer of the Citizens Building and Loan Association of Lafayette, will make every effort to stop usury in the state.

The law provides for the licensing of all petty lenders. A permit to do business costs $100 a year. Receipts, according to present indications, will amount to between 7 and 10 thousand dollars each year. Expenses of the loan department will be paid out of this amount and it is probable that there will be a small sum remaining.

LARGE CROWD AT
MANILLA MEETING

Despite Disagreeable Weather Many
Farmers Attend Session at
School House Monday Night

CROPS AND WAR DISCUSSED

Despite the very disagreeable weather, a large crowd was out for the combination crop and patriotic meeting at the school house in Manilla last night. The addresses were made by Judge Will M. Sparks of this city and Russel East, Shelby county agent.

The school auditorium was more than half filled with people, most of them farmers of Walker township. A quartet of young people sang and Mr. Pressnal sang a stirring song that was loudly applauded.

The speakers dwelt on the seriousness of the future which the United States faced. Mr. East emphasized the need of intensive farming in the rural communities because of the responsibility which rests with the United States to feed millions of the people of Europe. Judge Sparks talked of the war and this country's part in it.

VETERINARIANS OF
STATE WILL HELP

Organizing Throughout State to Conserve Livestock Supply
and Eradicate Disease

HOPE TO CONTROL CHOLERA

Indianapolis, May 1.—Nine hundred veterinarians of Indiana working under the direction of Dr. L. E. Northup, state veterinarian, are organizing to conserve the livestock supply of the state through eradication of disease and by aiding in the breeding and development of livestock in larger numbers and of better quality than ever before.

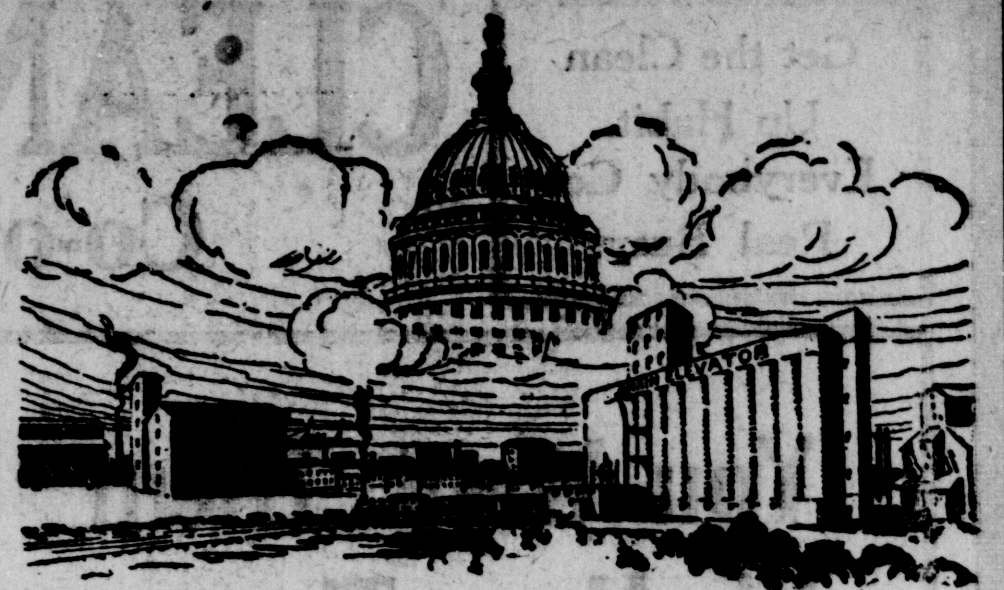

Dr. Northup outlined his plans to the United Press today:

"Veterinarians are forming small local organizations which will hold meetings frequently to discuss the livestock situation in their communities," said Dr. Northup. "They will make plans to control epidemics, through co-operation with the livestock men, with each other and with the force of veterinarians supplied by the U. S. bureau of animal husbandry. The members will act as a livestock exchange for bringing together buyer and seller of unfinished hogs, being sold for slaughter for lack of food.

"The control of hog cholera, by this plan has been attempted in fifteen counties in the state during the last few months and results have been promising enough to warrant extension over the entire state."

Helping Farmers With Their Grain

The Federal Reserve Banking System established by the government stands back of the farmer from the time he breaks ground till his crop is harvested. Special facilities are provided for carrying grain in elevator.

The vast funds of the Federal Reserve Banking System are available only for legitimate farming and business needs, and in some respects farmers' paper is given preference over merchants' paper.

A Few Timely Hints for Home Gardner to Follow

Department of Agriculture Horticulturists Outline Principles for Making a Success of the Home Vegetable Patch.

XXIII.—Fertilizer from Tarred Streets May Be Harmful.

Those who use street sweepings to fertilize gardens should avoid manure that contains oil or tar. Either of these substances is harmful to plants, specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture warn. Sweepings from tarred pavements or oiled roads are likely to contain them. Oil droppings from motor cars often mix with such waste, also. If sweepings are collected with some care and before rain or water from street sprinklers have reached them and washed out the elements of fertilizing value, they can be used advantageously.

In connection with the spread of the city gardening movement, now popular throughout the country,

the Department of Agriculture believes a warning in regard to oil and tar damage should be given. A specialist in the Bureau of Chemistry cites an instance of damage done to a garden near Silver Spring, Montgomery County, Maryland, on which unsorted street sweepings from the District of Columbia were used. This garden, according to the specialist, was ruined by the tar products in the fertilizer and it was necessary to remove the top soil and resurface the entire plot with new soil. It is suggested by this official that with some attention to detail it might be possible to collect sweepings from streets that are not tarred, and perhaps from other public places.

The Kidneys of The Hog

secrete the urine and other poisons. They must be in a healthy, natural state to do this or blood poisoning may result. If not this, at least, enough local disturbance is caused to cause disease. Many an epidemic is started this way. To keep the kidneys healthy ful the animal must have all the food elements required or have a mixed diet. Much so called hog cholera is produced by feeding too much corn with not enough other feed.

STANDARD HOG REGULATOR contains the necessary minerals, animal salts, sodas, etc., to offset and neutralize the effects of feeding too much of one kind of feed or of over-feeding. Simply let the hogs run to it in a Standard Self Feeder.

TELLS BEST WAY TO PLANT POTATOES

Prof. Christie Says They Require Large Amounts of Plant Food to Produce Best

ADVISES USE OF FERTILIZER

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—G. I. Christie, state food director, today issued the following instructions regarding the planting of potatoes:

"Plant potatoes in a loose, loamy soil which is full of decaying organic matter. The seed bed for potatoes should be deep and well-prepared. Potatoes require large amounts of available plant food. Therefore it is desirable to apply commercial fertilizer containing approximately 2% nitrogen and 10% phosphoric acid at the rate of about 400 pounds per acre. Early potatoes should be planted as soon as the ground is in good condition. Late varieties can be planted from May 20 to June 10. Irish Cobbler and early Ohio are suitable early varieties. For late potatoes use Rural New Yorker, Burbank's seedling and the Raleigh.

"Plant potatoes in rows 28 to 36 inches apart. The seed pieces should be placed 12 to 14 inches apart in the row. Cover the potatoes about 4 inches.

"The most important insect bothering potatoes is the potato beetle. This can be controlled by spraying the vines with a solution of arsenate of lead made by mixing 2 pounds of arsenate of lead with 50 gal. water. In smaller amounts use the same proportions."

Amusements

The unusual spectacle of a Belasco production at the Murat will be the outstanding event of the week in the theaters when Frank Craven comes Friday and Saturday in Roi Cooper Megrue's new farce, "Seven Chances." It will be the first time a David Belasco play has been presented at the Massachusetts avenue theater since it was built.

"Seven Chances," although not another "boomerang," has had all the advantage of expert casting and effective stage management, and as a farce it is one of the most ambitious productions of the season. It began a long New York engagement last August at the George M. Cohan theater, and later was transferred to Mr. Belasco's own theater. It is now on its way to Chicago, where it will be an all-summer attraction. Its author, Megrue, has written "Under Cover"; "It Pays to Advertise," with which the Stuart Walker Players open their season at the Murat, May 14; "Potash and Perlmutter in Society," and "Under Fire." It tells the story of Jimmie Shannon, unromantic and confirmed young bachelor, not exceedingly prepossessing physically and bashful to the point of pain. To Jimmie will come an estate of $12,000,000 if he is married when he is thirty—and he is thirty on the morrow. The seven chances of the title are the eligible girls his friends invite to a party at the country club, where he tackles each in turn.

The Selig production of Robert Hichen's novel, "The Garden of Allah," shown at the Princess last night to a large audience, will be repeated tonight. It is a wonderfully staged production in which every detail has been taken care of. The story is presented in bold relief to the vast amount of activity shown in creating atmosphere which would be quite distracting if handled other than in the manner in which it is. The customs of the two religions touched in the story are excellently shown and the foreign setting is depicted with unusual skill. Helen Ware is the featured star. She plays the part with her proved ability. The original ending has not been sacrificed for the so-called popular ending. The mystery of "Boris" is held to the end. Tonight's performance starts at 7:45 o'clock. Al Reeves, a baritone of note, will appear again tonight.

NEW COMMISSION MEMBERS ON DUTY

E. I. Lewis, John McCardle and William Wood Take Positions on Utility Board

WERE RECENTLY APPOINTED

Indianapolis, May 1.—Three new members of the public service commission, recently named by Gov. Goodrich, took up their new duties today. They are:

E. I. Lewis, of the Indianapolis News; John W. McCardle, grain merchant and political manager of the governor's campaign and Wm. J. Wood, lawyer of Evansville and a former member of the railroad commission. They took the place of Edwin M. Lee, who was ousted by the governor on the grounds of inefficiency; Thomas Duncan and Jas. L. Clark, whose terms of office expired today. Duncan, who lived in Princeton before being appointed to the commission, will practice law in Indianapolis and Clark will resume the practice of law at Danville.

The commission will organize immediately. Carl H. Mote, head of the "defunct" oil inspection system will be named secretary. The balance of power in the commission still rests with democrats as two of the hold-over members—Edwin Corr and Chas. A. Edwards, and one new member, Wood, are democrats.

THIS WAS "FATHERS DAY"

This was the day that Father was supposed to wear a dandelion blossom because this is "Father's Day" all over the United States where "Child Welfare Week" is being observed. There wasn't must doubt but that Dad would be reminded this was his day by the ever-present dandelion blossom which no cold weather could ever harm. Residents of Rushville are constantly reminded that this is "Child Welfare Week" by the artistic posters which the Rushville stores are displaying in their windows. The special week will be closed next Saturday with a program at George C. Wyatt and company's furniture store.

CONSTIPATION PILES AND HEMORRHOIDS

A DISCOVERY HAS BEEN MADE THAT IS A BOON TO SUFFERERS OF CONSTIPATION, PILES AND HEMORRHOIDS—IT HAS BENEFITED HUNDREDS—IT WILL BENEFIT YOU.

It is a well known fact that Piles, Hemorrhoids and troubles of that kind, as a rule, have their origin in constipation. Look back to the time you first noticed the disagreeable, painful feeling that pile sufferers know only too well. The bowels were constipated. Cathartics were used almost incessantly.

The origin of constipation can be traced to indigestion in almost every instance. The food, instead of digesting properly, passes out of the stomach in an undigested, non-assimilative condition. In this form it enters the bowels, clogs them and constipates.

A systematic digestion of your food will prevent constipation. Many take cathartics for this trouble, when it would be far better to go to the seat of the trouble, the stomach. Peppinco, the perfect digestant, is used by thousands and has proven a boon to hundreds of sufferers of constipation, piles and hemorrhoids, because it has been demonstrated to be the only logical method of regulating the bowels. Peppinco acts upon the food as it enters the stomach, preparing it for assimilation quickly and surely. It is a well known fact that well digested food will never constipate. It is equally well known that undigested food does constipate, therefore, the logical method of curing constipation is the perfect digestion of the food as it enters the stomach.

If you have Piles; if you have Hemorrhoids; we would suggest that you go at once to the drug store and get a small package of Peppinco, which will regulate your bowels and cure your piles and hemorrhoids. All druggists carry Peppinco. It is inexpensive and easy to take.

SHOWS MENACE TO ALLIES

Points Out Germany is Sinking Allies Vessels Faster Than They Can Be Constructed.

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, May 1.—The German submarine menace overshadowed even the question of sending American soldiers to France at the war conference of the allies here today.

The British expert, Eustus Percy, informed the American government that the shipping problem took precedence over other war problems.
Standardizing of ships in England, America, Canada and Japan is the biggest immediate need to stop the menace, he told America.

"Germany is sinking ships faster than the allies are building," said Lord Percy. "You may get something of the significance of the situation when I tell you that forty British merchant ships were sunk by German submarines the third week in April."

The English have told America that the balancing factor in the situation, if we are to go on feeding the allies, is the shipping problem.

The United States has submitted an estimate of the tonnage it can build and Canada has informed the allies that it is prepared to build wooden ships. Japan is also building ships.

OFFICIAL WORD OF SINKING

Government Gets Cable Saying
Only 18 on Vacuum Were Saved

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 1.—The government received the first official news of the sinking of the American steamer Vacuum today in a cablegram to the state department. The message was received from the American consul general at London. It said the vessel had been sunk by a submarine and only eighteen saved.

CENSORSHIP PUT ON WIRES TODAY

President Wilson Issues Proclamation Regarding Cable, Tele-

ALONG THE MEXICAN BORDER

Object to Prevent Military Information Reaching Enemy and Circulate False Reports

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 1.—Censorship of all cable and of all the telegraph and telephone lines along the Mexican border was instituted today by the United States government.

President Wilson issued a proclamation ordering the censorship and left it to the war and navy departments to work out the regulations. These regulations were completed and the censorship order in immediate effect.

The censorship hits newspapers and press associations chiefly, but it also involves messages of American business concerns and individuals.

The object of the censorship is to prevent military information reaching the enemy; to prevent sending of information prejudiced against the United States or of interest to Germany and to prevent the circulation of false reports.
The regulations are sufficiently broad to give the government censor the power to strike out parts and withhold messages.

CENSORSHIP HIDES MAY DAY ACTIVITIES

ed Strikes to Leak

ENGLAND REMAINS QUIET

(By United Press.)

London, May 1.—German censorship today hid from the world any May day developments in the labor and socialist movements or the threatened strike. Within the last few days the German censorship has suddenly tightened.

All sorts of sensational rumors gained circulation here today. It appeared certain that the twenty-four-hour strike has been successful in hanging up at least a part of the great German steel plants and possibly some munitions works.

England experienced no May day demonstrations. On the other hand several thousand workers, who had been out returned to their places this morning.

Charles Peck will address the high school commencement in May.

REFERENDUM AMENDMENT LOST TODAY

Senate Defeats LaFollette's Sug-

Differences Between Senate and House as to Age Limits and Other Things to be Settled

ANOTHER AMENDMENT LOST

Effort to Change Bill by Substituting
The Word "Emergency"
For "War" Fails

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 1.—The senate this afternoon for the second time passed the administration's selective conscription bill. It will go at once to conference for straightening out of the house and senate differences.

Intimation that war with other nations than Germany may threaten the United States was indicated in the senate when Senator Chamberlain introduced the conscription bill for final passage.

"Upon advice of the judge advocate general I desire to amend the bill," said Senator Chamberlain, "so as to substitute the word 'emergency' for 'war' wherever it appears in the bill.

"The reason given was that the bill is now constructed to apply only to the war with Germany and if we were drawn into a war with other nations it would not apply to those."

The amendment to eliminate the word "war" failed. The senate adopted an amendment prohibiting the maintenance of disreputable resorts within ten miles of training camps.

Senator LaFollette then offered his amendment to put to a referendum the question whether the American people wish to be conscripted and the question of sending troops to Europe. It was defeated.

The house this afternoon took up the army and navy appropriation bill totaling $2,699,000,000 for national defense purposes.

Suggestion that all schools opening next fall be postponed several weeks to permit boys and girls working on farms and in food production establishments, was made to the agriculture committee by Secretary Houston.

COUNTY IS READY FOR CONSCRIPTION

Boards to Register Men of Military

TRUSTEES ASKED TO SERVE

Appointed May Get All The Help
They Need Because It is All a Matter of Patriotism

The county conscription board composed of Sheriff Cavitt, Clerk
George H. Moore, Jr., and John Carr, met today and made preliminary arrangements for registering all of the men in Rush county of military age affected by the conscription bill. No date has been set as yet for the taking of the registration, but Rush county will be ready when the time does come.

In every township the township trustee was asked to co-operate with the county board. One man will have charge of the registration in each voting precinct of the county and the usual polling places will be used. The township trustees will have charge of the registering in the precincts in which they reside.

Any of the men appointed today by the county board to have charge of the registration by precincts may get as much help as necessary. The entire thing is a matter of patriotism, there being no money consideration involved. The county board and the assistants will draw no pay and for this reason co-operation is urged. The appointments by precincts follow:

PARTY EXPECTED TO ATTRACT CROWD

Interest in First Line of Defense
Will Cause Large Number to Attend Navy Meeting

C. A. BOOKWALTER TO SPEAK

Representative of U. S. Navy Will Explain Advantages of Join-
The Service

On account of the prominence of the speakers and the nature of the meeting, it is anticipated that the navy recruiting party from Indianapolis, which will arrive here at 6:30 o'clock tonight and hold a public meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the court house assembly room, will be greeted by a large crowd that will tax the seating capacity of the assembly room.

Robert E. Mansfield will preside and the principal address will be made by Charles A. Bookwalter, former mayor of Indianapolis. A representative of the United States navy will also make an address explaining the navy recruiting campaign and many of the advantages of the navy, which is the first line of defense. Music will be provided by the orchestra of the Main Street
Christian Sunday school.

Accompanying the navy party will be M. B. Goldfarb, first gunners mate attached to the Indianapolis recruiting station which is in charge of Lieutenant E. F. Clement. Goldfarb will remain here Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday to conduct a brief recruiting campaign for the navy in Rush county. He will make headquarters at the postoffice.

Some of the advantages offered by the Navy are: a free outfit of clothing, sufficient ordinarily to last two years; transportation and subsistence from point of enlistment to place of assignment; travel allowances (cash) at the rate of 4 cts.
per mile from place of discharge to place of enlistment when discharged by cause of expiration of enlistment —for instance: a man who enlists at New York and is discharged at San Francisco, distance about 3,100 miles, will receive $124.00; if discharged through physical disability, transportation and subsistence will be given to man's home; if injured in line of duty to such an extent that a man is discharged, a liberal pension is given; free medical treatment and, if incapacitated for any duration from whatsoever cause, man's full pay continues so long as he is serving within his enlistment; a furlough of 30 days each year on full pay provided ship is in home waters; certain advancement in rating with corresponding increase in pay to the deserving; privilege of allotting a portion of monthly pay to bank for own savings, or to dependent relatives; six months pay to dependent relative in case of death in line of duty; material increase in pay upon re-enlistment; 4 months gratuity pay to honorably discharged men who re-enlist within four months of discharge date; many details carrying additional pay of from $2.00 to $25.00 per month; retirement after 30 years service on 3-4 full pay plus a liberal allowance for lodging and subsistence, which in most cases will amount to $100.00 per month; an opportunity to enter the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, Md. (Under existing law 25 enlisted men of the Navy may be appointed to the Naval Academy.)

The examination for appointment to the Naval Academy is competitive and is open to all young men under 20 years of age. When completing the course at the Naval Academy, the midshipman to which status the recruit passes when entering, emerges a commissioned officer with the rank of Ensign, splendid opportunity to become a Officer Petty Officer upon re-enlistment, which earners pay of upwards of $100.00 per month.

KILL MANY SHEEP IN THIS TOWNSHIP

Dogs Cause Heaviest Loss in Years,
Causing Fund to be Depleted,
With Claims Outstanding

DEFICIT OF $322 REPORTED

Trustee James Young Says Dog Owners Must Pay Taxes or be Prosecuted Under the Law

The township dog fund is absolutely "broke." Worse than this there is a deficit of $322 in outstanding claims for sheep killed in Rushville township, which must be paid out of this fund. All of which means that the township assessor will likely make a second trip around the circuit looking for dogs that escaped taxation, and also that Trustee J. V. Young, will devote considerable time towards prosecution, if necessary to get the tax on all dogs.

The toll claimed by sheep killing dogs in the last few weeks has been the heaviest in years. In one neighborhood—the Webb community—southwest of the city, claims for $322 worth of sheep killed by dogs have been filed with Trustee Young.
These claims, under the law, are paid out of the dog fund and the dog fund is maintained by the taxes on dogs.

The fund today was worse than nothing. There was absolutely no money with which to pay these outstanding claims. The township assessor has been asked to submit his report on dog tax collections. In former years the assessor usually turned over about $260. If this amount is received this spring there will still be a shortage in the fund. For this reason a second trip will be made by the assessors in order to get all of the taxes due the township on dogs. Trustee Young has a list of dog owners and in case they are not given in for taxation, prosecution will follow. The offense is punishable with a fine and in addition the owner of the dog is then required to pay the tax. Each day constitutes a separate offense.

Trustee Young stated today that the thing was serious. The law requires that on March 1 the trustees must reduce their dog funds to $100 and all over this goes to the county. Trustee Young had a shortage in this fund on March 1 and kept only $67 on hands. This has long since been paid out.

The sheep herds of U. S. Maffett, Alva Webb, Noah Webb and Jonathan Fore, all in the Webb neighborhood, have been exceedingly hard hit by the dogs. Outstanding claims filed with the trustee for sheep killed are as follows: U. S. Maffett, $45; Alva Webb, $60; Noah Webb, $150 and Jonathan Fore, $67. More sheep of Noah Webb were killed last Saturday night and he will have an additional claim to file.

The parties have been keeping their sheep close to their homes and despite this the dogs have become so bold as to approach the houses.
Saturday night one dog was killed.
It was reported to the trustee that one man was refusing to give up a dog known to be a sheep killing animal. This offense is punishable with a heavy fine.

Trustee Young said today that there were at least 500 dogs in Rushville. "With the high cost of living soaring," said Mr. Young, "I do not see how the people expect to keep the dogs, and especially since they do not pay taxes. I guess we will have to start a dog killing campaign before the thing is ended."

son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Young of

PLOT TO BLOW UP NEW YORK OFFICE

Details Divulged With Arrest of Wolfe Hirsh Formerly in German Submarine Service

STOCK MARKET PANIC, PLAN

Police Declare he Has Been Experimenting With High Explosives at Roosevelt Hospital.

New York, May 1.—Details of a plot to blow up an important Wall street office, presumably J. P. Morgan and company and contemplated to be followed by cutting of telephone wires and spreading of false reports of President Wilson's assassination and U-boat raids, were revealed by the police today following the arrest of Wolfe Hirsh, formerly in the German submarine service.

Hirsh, with George Neiring, another German, is held on a charge of having a bomb in his possession. The police declare he hoped to cause a stock panic and profit thereby.

Hirsh, according to the police, declared he was engaged in the German secret service. He is an expert chemist and has been under surveillance for some time. Officers charged they watched his experimenting with explosives in the Roosevelt hospital where he was employed.

Inspiration Miscellany

Cheerful Women

A cheerful woman is like a ray of sunshine wherever she goes. She not only does good to others by example, but she helps discontented and gloomy people to throw off some of their native melancholy and to emulate a little of her own cheerfulness.

The cheerfulness that persists in seeing the bright side of everything and discovers "the silver lining" where others perceive no break in the gray cloud must not be confounded with selfishness and carelessness. They are totally different attributes, quite antagonistic to one another.

A purely selfish and careless woman would be thinking so continually about herself that she would have no reserve force left in which to practice the hundred and one little thoughtful actions which come within the ken of the woman who has "cheerfulness" as her watchword and who endeavors to make her sisters more happy by imparting some of it to them.

Women who seem the embodiment of happiness are frequently misjudged. Superficial observers give them little credit for any depth of feeling, and imagine that they take the responsibilities and cares of life far too lightly when they do not go about with a gloomy countenance. It is only those who have been confined to a sickroom who know what a priceless treasure is that buoyancy of spirit and what hidden depths of feeling may be beneath the outwardly bright exterior.—Exchange.

A Father's Last Question.

A New York business man suddenly said to his daughter, "Helen, have I been a good father to you?" "Certainly you have. Why do you ask such a question?" she answered. There was no reply, and the girl, turning, saw that her father's head had fallen forward on his breast. She went to him and found that he was dead. It was only a case of heart failure, with nothing supernatural about it. Yet some time it seems as if Death sent a secret messenger ahead to warn the spirit of its coming, and the soul thus warned rises and awaits the Presence standing. No one could ask to die with a knicker thought in mind than that which this man had, nor can every daughter cherish so sweet a memory.

In the twelve seasons that have elapsed since Bransfield departed Pittsburgh has tried out no less than nineteen men at the first corner. After leaving the Pirates "Kitty" played fine ball for Philadelphia, but eventually retired. It remains to be seen whether "Kitty" can handle the indicator as well as he could cover first base.

What an Oklahoma Boy

Did With an Acre of Land

The production of 100 bushels of corn on an acre of land is by no means common in any state, and especially in Oklahoma, where climatic conditions are none too reliable, writes a correspondent of the Country Gentleman. This feat was accomplished during the past year, however, by Earl Ross, a farmer boy of Oklahoma county, Okla.

Earl's father, a renter, gave him an acre of land on what little creek bottom there was on the farm, and the boy went to work. The land had been in potatoes the year before and weeds had overgrown it to some extent.

In the early spring the land was plowed about eight inches deep, and then the disk harrow and the smoothing harrow were run over the plot three times before the crop was planted. The stand was pretty good, and cultivation began immediately, even before the corn came up. In addition to being harrowed twice, the corn was cultivated five times. In fact, the county agent said Earl almost lived in that corn patch up to the time the crop was thinned.

But the work paid, for the yield was slightly more than 100 bushels to the acre. Along with that 100 bushel corn yield came other benefits. There is a father who sees more value in what he used to term "book farming," and there is a wide awake boy who sees more in the future of farming than he was ever able to see before.

SENATE PAYS DEEP TRIBUTE TO FRENCH

Historic Chamber Shakes With Cheers When Visitors From America's Ally Appear

VIVIANI PREDICTS VICTORY

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 1.—The United States senate today paid spectacular tribute to Vice Premier Viviani and Marshall Joffre. Time and again the historic chamber where demonstrations are forbidden, shook with cheers during a visit of the leading members of the French commission.

From the time they entered the chamber until they left the applause was deafening. Senator LaPollette, chief opponent of the war, was one of the first to begin and the last to stop.

Viviani predicted a "magnificent victory with the help of this glorious country in which you live."

POSSIBILITY OF FLOUR FAMINE HINTED TODAY

Seriousness of Situation in Chicago Realized When it Develops Few Have a Supply

BAKERS STRIKE IS THE CAUSE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., May 1.—Possibility of a flour famine added to the seriousness of the bread famine here today when it was learned that hardly any of the small retail grocers had enough to supply the demand.

Efforts by the mayor and other intermediaries to reach an agreement between the strikers and the bakers have failed and union leaders declare that the arrival of Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor will not change the situation.

SUIT IS FILED TO ESTABLISH A WILL

Laura Ivins Riley et al. Bring Action in Which It is Alleged Document Was Lost.

SAYS IT WAS MADE MAY 12, 1914

Laura Ivins Riley et al. have filed suit to establish a will of the late John Ivins, that is alleged to have been lost, which if found distributes his estate, valued at $25,000. The defendants are David Ivins and others.

It is alleged in the complaint that the late Mr. Ivins made a will on May 12, 1914, while of sound mind. The complaint sets out the amounts the various heirs were to receive under the will. A partition suit involving the same parties was filed a few days ago.

R. W. McDaniel and Douglas Morris represent the plaintiff in the will case. The court is asked to declare that the will exists and to remove O. A. J. Hall as the administrator of the estate and that the property be disposed under the terms of the alleged will.

Send Boys in Trenches A Paper From "Back Home"

The United Press, which supplies the Daily Republican with its news from the battlefields of Europe, has received a number of requests from American soldiers fighting with the Canadian army in France for newspapers from back home.

For example, Captain F. H. Burr, of Columbus, O., writes:

"The folks at home can give the boys a lot of pleasure by sending them occasional packages of newspapers. Whenever an American newspaper does happen to find its way to the depots in France, it is handed around, page by page, among the American soldiers until it is worn out."

Send them to the following addresses, either or all:

WHAT IS THE CONSTITUTION OF A STATE?

Copyright 1917 by John A. Lapp.

If all the people of a state could come together to conduct the common business, to make laws, execute laws and interpret laws, there would be no need of a constitution because the people would do the work of government themselves. Since they cannot come together but must depend upon representatives it is necessary that the people lay down the principal rules which are to guide their representatives and to declare that certain things shall or shall not be done by them.

The constitution is this declaration by the people. It controls legislatures, executives, courts, cities, towns, counties and townships. It is the supreme law of the people made by themselves. It sets up the main parts of the machinery of government and tells what legislatures, executives and courts may or may not do. Nothing can be done contrary to it by any official and when it defines a way to do anything that thing must be done in that way because any act in violation of the constitution is void.

The constitution of a club or society is the simplest form of constitution. The members of the society either by themselves or by specially chosen committees draw up a constitution which makes the general form of organization and government of the club. This is the supreme law of the club and cannot be changed except by the members of the club. Clubs also have a set of by-laws which are made and changed by the club or by its officers from time to time.

The constitution of the club corresponds to the constitution of the state; the by-laws correspond to the acts of the legislature. The constitution is made by the members of the club and in the case of the state by the members of the state—the people. The by-laws are made and changed by the officers of the club and in the case of the state by the legislature. The constitution is, therefore, the higher law. It may be made only by the people themselves acting through a specially appointed representative. It cannot be changed except by the special approval of the people. Hence it ought to be only that part of the law which is permanent and not changeable. That which is subject to frequent changes belongs to the by-laws—made by the legislature. A constitution should, therefore, be a short statement of principles which are reasonably permanent and not a mass of details which need frequent changes.

The constitutions of the states set up a form of government for the state consisting of a legislative, executive and judicial department, declare who has the right to vote and then set forth some of the things which cannot be done by officials. The people, jealous of their rights, fearing that officials might sometimes go wrong, declare that certain things may not be done. The people, for instance, will not tolerate interference with religious freedom; they will not permit a man's house to be searched without a warrant; or permit a man's life, liberty or property to be taken except by fair trial and judgment.

To guide their representatives the people declare in the constitution that certain things may be done and put the duty upon legislatures to pass certain laws.

In effect the constitution is a grant of power from the people to the government. All political power in this country rests in the people and they delegate in the constitution that part of their power which they are willing to trust to their officials.

The constitution as we know it, originated in this country in the time of the revolution. In England there was a constitution but it consisted in grants of right to the people from the government. The colonies were governed by charters granted by the crown. These charters were constitutions. When the colonies threw off the crown, they threw off the charters and stood free and independent of all authority. They then drew up their own form of government and fixed it in a written constitution. Thus the colonies reversed the old order of constitution and instead of making them a grant of rights from the government to the people, they became a grant of limited powers from the people to the government.

Since that day every state in the Union has had its constitution. In all cases these constitutions were made by the people's representatives chosen for the purpose and practically all have been adopted by the direct vote of the people.

The example of written constitutions in America spread all over the world and practically every civilized country now has a written constitution. In monarchial countries these constitutions are grants of rights to the people from the rulers. In democratic countries the constitution is the people's law which controls every act of the rulers, and the very existence of the rulers themselves.

Nothing further need be said to indicate the great importance of constitution making than thus to point out the place of the constitution in our political system. Since it is the people's supreme law, it needs to be framed with great wisdom, far-sighted vision, and the widest information gleaned from the experience of popular government throughout the world.

QUESTIONS FOR INVESTIGATION.
1. What are the advantages of a written constitution?
2. What are the difficulties of a written constitution?
3. Explain at length the difference between a constitution in a democracy and in a monarchy.
4. Explain the form of the English constitution. Is it a constitution of a democracy or a monarchy?

ORDERED TO RECRUIT UP TO WAR STRENGTH

Captain Kiplinger Instructed by Adjutant General to Raise Guard Company to 150

WILL BE EQUIPPED AT ONCE

The next drill of the local guard company will be held Friday night. Most of this week will be taken up with measuring the men for clothing so that a requisition can be sent in as soon as possible to the government. Capt. Kiplinger this morning received an order from the adjutant general to proceed immediately with recruiting the company to war strength. He is asked to report the progress of the work.

The local company believes it can easily reach the 150 required for war strength. The Ladies Musicale was open to the public last evening, and there were over two hundred in attendance. The musical program which was given first, included the following: cornet solo, Harry Lucas; violin solo, C. Ernest Parke; piano duo, Mrs. Mauzy and Miss Kitchen; guitar solo, Dwight VanOsdol, and vocal solo, Miss Norma Smith. This was followed by an interesting lecture, "In a Canoe Down Spoon River," by Earl Marlatt, the subject being taken from Edgar Lee Masters book, entitled "Spoon River." The story was laid in a cemetery on "Spoon River." He told of the views these people in the cemetery, who had died and gone to Heaven, would take of life, and what they would think of the people left on earth. In the talk, the speaker took the audience through this cemetery and read the epitaphs on the tombstones and then compared it with East Hill cemetery on Flat Rock river, and what we would think after we had been buried there and our souls gone to Heaven. Mr. Marlatt gave parodies on several poems, among which was "Ben Bolt." He brought out the many differences between the modern poetry and that written by the older poets; how the modern poetry didn't rhyme but was much better than the old.

The next meeting of the Musicale will be in two weeks, when Mothers Day will be observed, and the daughters of the members of the Musicale will preside.

The C. W. R. M. of the Little Flatrock Christian church will meet Thursday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at the church and the members of the May division will act as hostesses as follows: Mrs. Walter Looney, Mrs. Wesley Mauzy, Mrs. Charles Mauzy, Mrs. Ed Newby, Mrs. John Heeb, Mrs. Rosecoe Titsworth and Mrs. Alfred Looney. In honor of her house guests, who left for Oxford yesterday, Miss Fanny Stiers gave an elegant three course dinner yesterday at her home south of the city. The Ladies of the May division of the C. W. R. M. will entertain the members of the society in the parlors of the church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The program is as follows: Bible Study, Mrs. John Boren; The Bible in Mexico, Mrs. C. H. Parsons; New School in Texas—Mexican Border, Mrs. Imer Cole; Protestant Epoch of Christian Conquest, Mrs. J. D. Case; music by Miss Marie Clawson.

The evening was spent with dancing and playing cards, after which splendid refreshments were served.

Mrs. Hillary Haydon entertained the eight members of her 500 club yesterday afternoon at her home in North Main street. After the usual rounds of cards the hostess served a delectable luncheon.

The Band of Workers will meet with Mrs. Lon Link tomorrow afternoon, at her home in North Perkins street, and all the members are urged to be present.

Congressman Comstock Responds to Letter From Ministerial Association Regarding Prohibition

CONGREGATIONS VOTED FOR IT

Dr. D. Ira Lambert, secretary of the Rushville Ministerial association has received a reply from Congressman Daniel W. Comstock of this district in response to a letter from Dr. Lambert informing him that the Protestant congregations of Rushville, at services a week ago Sunday, had voted unanimously in favor of national prohibition as a war measure.

Congressman Comstock acknowledges receipt of the letter in which he was asked to assist in the movement for a dry nation, saying that he noted "the action of the Protestant congregations of Rushville on the question of prohibition as a war measure," and added: "The same will be given fair consideration."

A similar letter was sent to Senator Watson but no response has been received yet.

Raising Turkeys

A turkey when hatched should be left in the nest until strong enough to stand alone. It does not require any feed during the first thirty-six hours of its life. The hen and poult should be placed in a roomy coop on the grass, preferably short.
Ground bone or sand and plenty of clean, fresh drinking water should be before them at all times. For the first feed use eggs boiled hard, chopped fine, with crushed shell also. Add a generous pinch of pepper, also a bit of finely chopped onion tops or alfalfa leaves, which are excellent.
Also feed milk curd pressed dry and sprinkled with pepper. In addition to this, feed prepared chick feed, which makes a fine balanced ration. If any signs of diarrhea appear, give cold tea and rice water to drink instead of water. Watch closely for lice, which are usually found on the head, under the wings and around the vent. Remember that lice are sure death to young turkeys.

Mother's Doll Story

Jan and Hanska

Jan rubbed his eyes and looked out of the nursery window. He wore black velvet trousers and a blue silk shirt. His hair was yellow silk thread, and once he had lived in Poland.

"Hanska!" he whispered. "Hanska!" Of course he was calling his small sister, who was not yet awake. Hanska was always dressed in a red velvet skirt and a white waist with a little shawl over her shoulders. It seems very odd for dolls not to have any nighties, but these were European dolls, and in wartimes, you know, almost everybody has to get along without much.

Hanska rubbed her eyes, too, and woke up. When she saw the strange room, with lots of calico dogs and worsted cats all sitting in a row, she just jumped right at Jan, and together they cried a bit because they were not in Poland.

"What do you think she will be like?" whispered Jan.

"Who knows?" wailed Hanska.

Just then the nursery door opened and in trudged a lovely little girl with blue eyes, brown curls and very pink cheeks.

"Oh, mamma," she cried, "how beautiful my Jan and Hanska are! I want to take them to breakfast with me, and then I want to take them out to dig in the snow!"

So you see that the little girl who adopted the small Poles planned to give them a good time.

We Copy From Nature.

The first clothmaker was the weaver bird, which from threads and vegetable filaments manufactures a fabric quite waterproof and of very dense structure.

In the ant hills of South Africa have been found suspension bridges passing from one gallery to another and spanning a gulf more than six inches wide. The first needle was the bill of the tailor bird, which sews together leaves in order to make its nest and form a shelter over its young.

At Nighttime.
If I were a little flower
I'd close my petals
For a rest.
If I were a little bird
I'd fold my wings
Up in my nest.

If I were a pussycat
I'd climb upon
My cushions red;
But, since I'm just a little boy,
I guess I'll have
To go to bed!

—Philadelphia Record.

THE PILGRIM.

Give me my scallop shell of quiet,
My staff of faith to walk upon,
My scrip of joy, immortal diet,
My bottle of salvation,
My gown of glory, hope's true gauge,
And thus I'll take my pilgrimage!

—Sir Walter Raleigh.

ASPIRATION.

Ah, when shall all men's good
Be each man's rule and universal peace
Lie like a shaft of light across the land,
And like a lane of beams athwart the sea
Through all the circle of the golden year?

—Tennyson

Every Man Should Now Put His Shoulder to the Wheel

¶ The representatives of the people in Congress assembled have spoken the will of the Nation and under the direction of President Wilson, it has been declared that a state of war exists between Germany and the United States.

¶ Whatever our opinions in the past, there must be but one now—and that is, to see that each and everyone's shoulder is put to the wheel and every effort given to the support of the government.

¶ And let us impress upon each and everyone that the support of the government does not necessarily mean—nor should it mean—patriotic outbursts or braggadocio.

¶ The business of war is one of the most intense and biggest propositions imaginable. A successful war can only be conducted by the elimination of hysteria and getting down to hard solid facts.

¶ It is absolutely necessary that everyone see that the business of the country is kept up to its fullest proportions, for it is only by reason of the business activity and the continuous interchanging of money that the government is able to borrow readily and easily and on the best terms.

¶ You should redouble your efforts to do a large measure of labor within the day's time. Every farmer should endeavor to increase his crops to the biggest on record. And above all else, all of us should go about our affairs in a normal, sensible manner. You are not expected to sit by and fold your hands but to do your bit—and that means that you must keep active in some way or other.

¶ Each section of the country must see that it provides its quota of business activity in every line.

¶ This store stands, as it has in the past, to the forefront; and realizing that only through increased business will the nation prosper and its financial condition be improved, we shall continue to present the advantages of buying at this store in the same aggressive manner as heretofore; always bearing in mind the fact we are a cog in the wheel of progress demanded by the government.

FOR YEARS we have served the best quality sodas, ice cream and drinks obtainable in this city. We sincerely believe that we have given the people of Rushville ten cent goods for five cents. We have charged up the deficit to advertising as we did not see how we could spend this amount of money to better advantage. No matter where you go now you will pay ten and fifteen cents for ordinary quality sodas, etc. With the advance in cost of raw materials such as sugar, ice cream, cocoa, etc., we feel that we would rather maintain our Quality Reputation and give Rushville a Strictly Sanitary Service as well as the price of Ten Cents. Nothing is too good for your stomach's sake and you do like to be served with clean soda glasses and you will be if you get it here, as we use one glass to each individual customer then throw it away.

SULLIVAN FELT HERE

Strong Gale Monday Night Causes
Many to Make Plans to Take
Refuge in the Basement

CLEAR WEATHER PROMISED

The effect of a cyclone near Sullivan, Ind., in which one man was seriously hurt and thousands of dollars worth of property damaged, was felt here last night in the form of a gale that threatened to take on the aspects of a cyclone. The wind blew very hard and caused many householders to arrange for sudden flight to the basement or some other place of safety. The wind had abated only a small bit today and made the ushering in of May a very disagreeable affair.

The forecast was not very promising. Although fair weather is held out as a possibility tonight or tomorrow, the weatherman's prediction of cold weather for today held good. The strong west wind prophesied also was very much in evidence.

The rains of the last week have been beneficial to the wheat, crop experts say, so that this may recompense somewhat for the inconvenience that people have suffered.

LOAN SHARK LAW
EFFECTIVE TODAY

Recent Act of Legislature Enforced
With Robert Prass at Head of
Department

PROVIDES STIFF LICENSE

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 1.—The anti-loan shark law, passed by the last legislature, went into effect today and Robert Prass, Lafayette, named head of the new department for regulation of loan sharks, took steps to see that the measure is rigidly enforced.

Prass, who was formerly treasurer of the Citizens Building and Loan Association of Lafayette, will make every effort to stop usury in the state.

The law provides for the licensing of all petty lenders. A permit to do business costs $100 a year. Receipts, according to present indications, will amount to between 7 and 10 thousand dollars each year. Expenses of the loan department will be paid out of this amount and it is probable that there will be a small sum remaining.

LARGE CROWD AT
MANILLA MEETING

Despite Disagreeable Weather Many
Farmers Attend Session at
School House Monday Night

CROPS AND WAR DISCUSSED

Despite the very disagreeable weather, a large crowd was out for the combination crop and patriotic meeting at the school house in Manilla last night. The addresses were made by Judge Will M. Sparks of this city and Russel East, Shelby county agent.

The school auditorium was more than half filled with people, most of them farmers of Walker township. A quartet of young people sang and Mr. Pressnal sang a stirring song that was loudly applauded.

The speakers dwelt on the seriousness of the future which the United States faced. Mr. East emphasized the need of intensive farming in the rural communities because of the responsibility which rests with the United States to feed millions of the people of Europe. Judge Sparks talked of the war and this country's part in it.

VETERINARIANS OF
STATE WILL HELP

Organizing Throughout State to Conserve Livestock Supply
and Eradicate Disease

HOPE TO CONTROL CHOLERA

Indianapolis, May 1.—Nine hundred veterinarians of Indiana working under the direction of Dr. L. E. Northup, state veterinarian, are organizing to conserve the livestock supply of the state through eradication of disease and by aiding in the breeding and development of livestock in larger numbers and of better quality than ever before.

Dr. Northup outlined his plans to the United Press today:

"Veterinarians are forming small local organizations which will hold meetings frequently to discuss the livestock situation in their communities," said Dr. Northup. "They will make plans to control epidemics, through co-operation with the livestock men, with each other and with the force of veterinarians supplied by the U. S. bureau of animal husbandry. The members will act as a livestock exchange for bringing together buyer and seller of unfinished hogs, being sold for slaughter for lack of food.

"The control of hog cholera, by this plan has been attempted in fifteen counties in the state during the last few months and results have been promising enough to warrant extension over the entire state."

Helping Farmers With Their Grain

The Federal Reserve Banking System established by the government stands back of the farmer from the time he breaks ground till his crop is harvested. Special facilities are provided for carrying grain in elevator.

The vast funds of the Federal Reserve Banking System are available only for legitimate farming and business needs, and in some respects farmers' paper is given preference over merchants' paper.

A Few Timely Hints for Home Gardner to Follow
Department of Agriculture Horticulturists Outline Principles for Making a Success of the Home Vegetable Patch.
XXIII—Fertilizer from Tarred Streets May Be Harmful.

Those who use street sweepings to fertilize gardens should avoid manure that contains oil or tar. Either of these substances is harmful to plants, specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture warn. Sweepings from tarred pavements or oiled roads are likely to contain them. Oil droppings from motor cars often mix with such waste, also. If sweepings are collected with some care and before rain or water from street sprinklers have reached them and washed out the elements of fertilizing value, they can be used advantageously.

In connection with the spread of the city gardening movement, now popular throughout the country,

the Department of Agriculture believes a warning in regard to oil and tar damage should be given. A specialist in the Bureau of Chemistry cites an instance of damage done to a garden near Silver Spring, Montgomery County, Maryland, on which unsorted street sweepings from the District of Columbia were used. This garden, according to the specialist, was ruined by the tar products in the fertilizer and it was necessary to remove the top soil and resurface the entire plot with new soil. It is suggested by this official that with some attention to detail it might be possible to collect sweepings from streets that are not tarred, and perhaps from other public places.

Russell Ruff and Miss Effie Matney were married Wednesday of last week by the Rev. Moody Edwards at his home in Irvington. They will go to housekeeping on the homestead west of here.

Earl Bear visited his wife last week who is in an Indianapolis hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She is improving nicely.

The Rev. Mr. Brown of Arlington preached in the Rev. Daniel Ryan's place Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. His subject was practical and his illustrations apt. There were no evening services. On next Sunday a minister from Denver will probably preach.

The Kidneys of The Hog
secrete the urine and other poisons. They must be in a healthy, natural state to do this or blood poisoning may result. If not this, at least, enough local disturbance is caused to cause disease. Many an epidemic is started this way. To keep the kidneys healthy the animal must have all the food elements required or have a mixed diet. Much so called hog cholera is produced by feeding too much corn with not enough other feed.
STANDARD HOG REGULATOR contains the necessary minerals, animal salts, soda, etc., to offset and neutralize the effects of feeding too much of one kind of feed or of over-feeding. Simply let the hogs run to it in a Standard Self Feeder.

TELLS BEST WAY TO PLANT POTATOES

Prof. Christie Says They Require Large Amounts of Plant Food to Produce Best

ADVISES USE OF FERTILIZER

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—G. I. Christie, state food director, today issued the following instructions regarding the planting of potatoes:

"Plant potatoes in a loose, loamy soil which is full of decaying organic matter. The seed bed for potatoes should be deep and well-prepared. Potatoes require large amounts of available plant food. Therefore it is desirable to apply commercial fertilizer containing approximately 2% nitrogen and 10% phosphoric acid at the rate of about 400 pounds per acre. Early potatoes should be planted as soon as the ground is in good condition. Late varieties can be planted from May 20 to June 10. Irish Cobbler and early Ohio are suitable early varieties. For late potatoes use Rural New Yorker, Burbank's seedling and the Raleigh.

"Plant potatoes in rows 28 to 36 inches apart. The seed pieces should be placed 12 to 14 inches apart in the row. Cover the potatoes about 4 inches.

"The most important insect bothering potatoes is the potato beetle. This can be controlled by spraying the vines with a solution of arsenate of lead made by mixing 2 pounds of arsenate of lead with 50 gal. water. In smaller amounts use the same proportions."

Amusements

The unusual spectacle of a Belasco production at the Murat will be the outstanding event of the week in the theaters when Frank Craven comes Friday and Saturday in Roi Cooper Megrue's new farce, "Seven Chances." It will be the first time a David Belasco play has been presented at the Massachusetts avenue theater since it was built.

"Seven Chances," although not another "boomerang," has had all the advantage of expert casting and effective stage management, and as a farce it is one of the most ambitious productions of the season. It began a long New York engagement last August at the George M. Cohan theater, and later was transferred to Mr. Belasco's own theater. It is now on its way to Chicago, where it will be an all-summer attraction. Its author, Megrue, has written "Under Cover"; "It Pays to Advertise," with which the Stuart Walker Players open their season at the Murat, May 14; "Potash and Perlmutter in Society," and "Under Fire." It tells the story of Jimmie Shannon, unromantic and confirmed young bachelor, not exceedingly prepossessing physically and bashful to the point of pain. To Jimmie will come an estate of $12,000,000 if he is married when he is thirty—and he is thirty on the morrow. The seven chances of the title are the eligible girls his friends invite to a party at the country club, where he tackles each in turn.

The Selig production of Robert Hichen's novel, "The Garden of Allah," shown at the Princess last night to a large audience, will be repeated tonight. It is a wonderfully staged production in which every detail has been taken care of. The story is presented in bold relief to the vast amount of activity shown in creating atmosphere which would be quite distracting if handled other than in the manner in which it is. The customs of the two religions touched in the story are excellently shown and the foreign setting is depicted with unusual skill. Helen Ware is the featured star. She plays the part with her proved ability. The original ending has not been sacrificed for the so-called popular ending. The mystery of "Boris" is held to the end. Tonight's performance starts at 7:45 o'clock. Al Reeves, a baritone of note, will appear again tonight.

NEW COMMISSION MEMBERS ON DUTY

E. I. Lewis, John McCardle, and William Wood Take Positions on Utility Board

WERE RECENTLY APPOINTED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 1.—Three new members of the public service commission, recently named by Gov. Goodrich, took up their new duties today. They are:

E. I. Lewis, of the Indianapolis News; John W. McCardle, grain merchant and political manager of the governor's campaign and Wm. J. Wood, lawyer of Evansville and a former member of the railroad commission. They took the place of Edwin M. Lee, who was ousted by the governor on the grounds of inefficiency; Thomas Duncan and Jas. L. Clark, whose terms of office expired today. Duncan, who lived in Princeton before being appointed to the commission, will practice law in Indianapolis and Clark will resume the practice of law at Danville.

The commission will organize immediately. Carl H. Mote, head of the "defunct" oil inspection system will be named secretary. The balance of power in the commission still rests with democrats as two of the hold-over members—Edwin Corr and Chas. A. Edwards, and one new member, Wood, are democrats.

THIS WAS "FATHERS DAY"

Dad Was Supposed to Wear a Dandelion Blossom as a Reminder

This was the day that Father was supposed to wear a dandelion blossom because this is "Father's Day" all over the United States where "Child Welfare Week" is being observed. There wasn't must doubt but that Dad would be reminded this was his day by the ever-present dandelion blossom which no cold weather could ever harm. Residents of Rushville are constantly reminded that this is "Child Welfare Week" by the artistic posters which the Rushville stores are displaying in their windows. The special week will be closed next Saturday with a program at George C. Wyatt and company's furniture store.

CONSTIPATION PILES AND HEMORRHOIDS

It is a well known fact that Piles, Hemorrhoids and troubles of that kind, as a rule, have their origin in constipation. Look back to the time you first noticed the disagreeable, painful feeling that pile sufferers know only too well. The bowels were constipated. Cathartics were used almost incessantly.

The origin of constipation can be traced to indigestion in almost every instance. The food, instead of digesting properly, passes out of the stomach in an undigested, non-assimilative condition. In this form it enters the bowels, clogs them and constipates. A systematic digestion of your food will prevent constipation. Many take cathartics for this trouble, when it would be far better to go to the seat of the trouble, the stomach. Pepsinco, the perfect digestant, is used by thousands and has proven a boon to hundreds of sufferers of constipation, piles and hemorrhoids, because it has been demonstrated to be the only logical method of regulating the bowels.

Pepsinco acts upon the food as it enters the stomach, preparing it for assimilation quickly and surely. It is a well known fact that well digested food will never constipate. It is equally well known that undigested food does constipate, therefore, the logical method of curing constipation is the perfect digestion of the food as it enters the stomach.

If you have Piles; if you have Hemorrhoids; we would suggest that you go at once to the drug store and get a small package of Pepsinco, which will regulate your bowels and cure your piles and hemorrhoids. All druggists carry Pepsinco. It is inexpensive and easy to take.
